

PARADISE FOUND

SOME OF THE EARTH'S MOST AMAZING BEACHES ARE WAITING FOR YOU, RIGHT HERE IN MAURITIUS

No wonder Mauritius is such a popular holiday destination – it's a truly enchanting eco-friendly island with unspoilt beauty waiting for you at every turn.

There's a huge range of hotels to choose from, so it's essential to have a travel advisor with in-depth local expertise. Susie Freeman has years of experience in organising holidays to Mauritius, and should be your first call when you need guidance. Among Susie's recommendations is Naiade Resorts, a collection of luxury hotels where the service is friendly and all of your needs are met with a smile.

Rich in natural wonders such as waterfalls and forests, Mauritius is also an island of cultural diversity. Here Chinese, European, Indian and African influences merge, creating a melting pot which is evident in the proximity of churches, temples and mosques, all coexisting peacefully. It's a place to savour fusion cooking, mountain biking or windsurfing. Golf courses are dotted around, as are nature reserves and botanical gardens.

At the four-star deluxe Legends hotel, harmony with nature is of the utmost importance. The resort is designed using the principles of Feng Shui, and guests find serenity as ripples of calm flow through the resort like a stream. All rooms have sea views and are as comfortable as they are lovely. Holistic classes in Tai Chi and yoga are available daily, and Thalassotherapy spa The Source will welcome you for a massage.

Clockwise from top left:

The five-star Beau Rivage resort boasts a 2,000-square-metre swimming pool and beachside thatched kiosks. The Presidential Villa at the Legends resort has been designed using the principles of Feng Shui. The pool at Legends. A colourful flamboyant tree on Mauritius. Beau Rivage's Honeymoon Suite offers newlyweds palatial comfort

The beach at the five-star Beau Rivage, on Mauritius' east coast, features charming thatched-roof kiosks which are ideal for those who crave shade or a cocktail served at the water's edge. At the centre of the resort lies a stunning 2,000-square-metre pool, where you can while away the entire day, breaking only for a meal at one of the resort's four restaurants which serve the best in local tropical produce and fish. Alternatively you can indulge yourself with a treatment at Spa Aphrodite and feel the tension float away.

Visiting Mauritius with Susie Freeman's assistance means your holiday will match your needs perfectly. Whatever kind of break you're after in this beautiful part of the world, with Susie's contacts and personal commitment, not to mention her knowledge on local culture, hotels and island life, you know you're in the best possible hands. Highly competitive rates are the icing on the cake.

Naiade's other wonderful resorts include Les Pavillons, Merville Beach and Le Tropical in Mauritius, Ile des Deux Cocos, Desroches Island in the Seychelles and White Sands & Spa in the Maldives.

For enquiries, contact Susie Freeman on 01488 668821, email susie@susiefreemantravel.com or visit susiefreemantravel.com
For further information on Mauritius, call Mauritius Tourism on 020-7584 3666, or visit www.mauritiustourism.co.uk